DANIEL LURIE OUTRAISES THE FIELD IN RACE FOR MAYOR

SAN FRANCISCO— Documents filed today demonstrate that Daniel Lurie has outraised the field in the race for San Francisco mayor. Filings show that the Lurie campaign has raised a total of $823,005.68 from donors since he launched his campaign through the filing period, shattering fundraising goals. This figure does not include contributions made by Mr. Lurie to his campaign.

“I am humbled and grateful for the overwhelming support from our community,” said Daniel Lurie, a longtime non-profit executive, father of two, and lifelong Democrat. “This campaign is fueled by the support of thousands of donors who believe in our message of accountable leadership and share my vision for a safer, more affordable, and inclusive San Francisco. We are building a citywide movement to bring a culture of accountability to City Hall and tackle our biggest challenges.”

Recent polling indicates Lurie maintains the highest favorability ratings and dominates in second and third choice votes. As today’s filing deadline looms, recent public filings from rival campaigns detail their requests for matching funds through the city’s taxpayer funded public financing system. Those documents demonstrate that Lurie outraised the field while revealing that Breed received $888,211.86 in taxpayer dollars to support her campaign. Farrell has requested $98,271 to be matched 6:1 in taxpayer financing, while Supervisor Peskin received an initial $300,000 in taxpayer financing. Supervisor Safai received $466,260 in public financing.

In May, Lurie declined public financing amid the record budget deficit, a move that will ultimately save San Francisco taxpayers approximately $1.2 million. Lurie invested $590,000 of his own money into the campaign in the latest filing period, bringing his total haul to $1,413,005.68. Please note the totals listed in the 460 form for this filing period of $894,318.68 include Mr. Lurie's contributions, but don't include the amount raised since he launched his campaign in late September last year.

Lurie's candidacy has received strong support from the local community, with more than 66% of its over 2,641 unique donors coming from San Francisco.

Daniel Lurie was born and raised in San Francisco. He founded Tipping Point Community in 2005. Under his direction as CEO, Tipping Point has raised over half a billion dollars to help house, employ, educate, and support hundreds of thousands of Bay Area families. Last year alone, Tipping Point provided over six thousand people with services that either helped them transition out of homelessness or prevented them from experiencing it.

Last year, he co-founded the Civic Joy Fund, an organization that aims to increase civic engagement and assist in the economic recovery of San Francisco. Daniel also led efforts to construct a 100% affordable housing development with union labor on Bryant Street that came in on time and under budget.

Former Mayor Ed Lee selected Daniel in 2013 to lead the San Francisco Bay Area Super Bowl 50 Host Committee, an effort that brought over $240 million in economic impact to the region. Following the devastating fires in the North Bay in 2017, Daniel and Tipping Point partnered with 90 Bay Area business and community leaders to organize Band Together – a benefit concert that raised $17 million for those hardest hit by the deadly fires. In total, Tipping Point's Emergency Fire Relief Fund raised over $34 million.

Lurie is a lifelong Democrat. He lives in San Francisco with his wife Becca and two school-aged children.
